The property of the proper D. Lincoln Orr. a well known poultry fancier of Orr's Mills, N. Y., has sent $112. In part payment of the pen of Belgian Campines donated to the fund by Charles A. Phipps of Wayland, Mass., and sold to buy tobacco for the soldiers. Mr. Orr was treasurer of the Madison Square Garden Poultry Show, where these splendid fowl were exhibited.

smokes will be needed. This will buy a few. Mr. Phipps deserves a great deal of credit for his generosity."

The fund is grateful too to Mr. Orr. to Charles D. Cleveland, the secretary of the show, the MacNiff Horticultural Company and all others who were interested in the sale.

There is absolutely no limit to the patriotism of those good people of Ansonia, Conn. Another contribution has come from there, with the names of five more good citisens. Right on time, too, is the Twenty-eighth Street Finance Club with another of its regular offerings, its eleventh.

Welsome as Payday.

"As welcome as payday," says Ray E. Quisno of Battery F. 149th F. A., of "cigarettes forwarded to the boys." Writing "in behalf of the battery," he adds:

"Were there cards enough I am cer-tain all of us would thank you individ-ually, but we deputized this card to carry our thanks to the donor of the 'pills.' The season's greetings may be somewhat tardy in reaching you. Never-theless we send them along with our ein-cere thanks."

"You can't imagine how the cigarettes and tobacco donated by you were appreciated." writes Private A. F. Brown of Base Hospital 18 to another denor. "I think every soldier as well as myself is unable to speak too highly of the interest you show back home. You made us feel as if we were home for Christmas instead of being in France. We thank you all for your kindness."

Jesse Lyon, Company I, 167th Infantry, expresses his gratitude thus:

The New York Coal Dealers Association gave a dinner to members of the Fuel Administration in Murray's Roman Gardens last Saturday night. In the midst of the festivities Patrick V. Kyne, manager of Murray's, volunteered as a speaker and his offer was enthusiastically welcomed. His remarks developed into an eloquent plea for smokes for the goldiers and when he had finished the dilners showered contributions, with the result that a check for $36.37 reached the fund yesterday.

Thomas F Farrell, president of the association, was toastmaster, and the arrangements committee for the dinner we composed of George Elts, chairman: Arthur T. Rice and Charles Davies. It is a habit of Mr. Kyne's to permit no patriot to escape from Murray's without contributing to the fund.

"It's a pleasure to help," he said yesterday. "You may rest assured that I will continue to work for your most worthy cause whenever the opportunity presents itself in the Roman Gardens."

Another repeater who is represented in this morning's list is Helen L. Massenat of Pequest Farms, Belvidere, Bridge-ville, N. J., who sent $56 and this letter:

"Am sending a bit' more for our boys, whose postcards of real appreciation and spirit are greatly enjoyed. A well wisher always."

FINE SHOW AT RECTOR'S

Lively Broadway Features Help "The Sun's" Tobacco Fund. Another was added last night to the long list of entertainments for THE SUN Tobacco Fund, an uncommonly large crowd in the main restaurant and the Futurist room at Rector's, giving evidence to its interest in the welfare of the American soldiers at the front.

Not only did George Rector, James Thompson and Miss Mac King, the sup-per hostess, put on "The Rector Girl," with a few special frills for the occasion, but Arthur Yorke sent some of the best entertainers from his "Venus on Broad-way" show at the Palais Royal, and Munsey's Magazine, now in its sixtynew and better form, confident in its bid science, was bitterly attacked yesterday by the Rev. Joseph H. McMahon, Ph. D., in an address under the auspices of the New forces shaking the world in a war by the Rev. Joseph H. McMahon, Ph. D., in an address under the auspices of the Catholic Library Association at Delmonico's. He called upon liberal minded persons, especially the members of the Catholic Church, to join in combating the prohibition wave, which he asserted even puts in jeopardy the religious customs and rites of his church.

Intolerance and fanaticism—the essence of the Puritan conscience, he said—were named as the energising force of the "bone dry" epidemic. This conscience, he went on, moves and acts in straight lines rather than curves, is without a sense of fairness, disregards vasted property rights, refuses to recognize religious rites and declines to combine mercy with justice.

"Under the propelling influence of this conscience the nation is now engaged in attempting the impossible—that of making men moral by legislative statute," said Dr. McMahon. "The bone dry" movement strikes directly at the individual liberty of man, and it even places our religious customs in jeopardy.
